

October 1st, 2013

Information regarding products similar to our products

Recently, we have received a report that products closely resembling to our "PEBREATH" have been on the market.

With a serious recognition of the matter, we have been investigating and considering the facts carefully. We have determined to take appropriate measures in an appropriate manner against such similar products according to the result of the investigation and consideration.

While we have caused great concern and troubles to every client and those who are involved in medical care facilities, we would like to ask your understanding and support.

That's all.